

British Labor To Carry On

Attlee Will Test Small Majority

London, Feb. 25—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee elected today to try governing Britain on his labor party's razor-thin majority.

After an emergency cabinet meeting of an hour and a quarter, he announced "we are carrying on" and sent word of his decision to King George VI.

The shy, unassuming labor party leader will be attempting to run a nation of some 50,000,000 with what may be the smallest government majority in the House of Commons for a century.

Excluding the non-partisan speaker of the House and four results to be reported later, labor holds 315 seats in the 625-seat commons, the conservatives 294, the liberals 8, independents one and Irish nationalists 2.

This gave Attlee just two votes over a bare majority of 313 and a margin of only 21 over his most dangerous opposition, Winston Churchill's conservatives.

The four districts still out were three in Scotland which are not scheduled to report until Monday and a Manchester district which holds a delayed election March 9 because of the death of a candidate.

Three of these districts went conservative in 1945 and went labor. How long Attlee might last with so slim a majority depends in a large part on tactics.

After deciding to remain in office, Attlee went to the prime minister's home at Chequers to plan the composition of his new government. By tradition, all cabinet members placed their resignations at his disposal.

Some changes are expected. A week ago the cabinet was expected to be more leftist than ever. Attlee may have to trim his sails now.

Original plans called for the resignation of Ernest Bevin, the foreign secretary whose policies have been supported in general by the conservatives. He leads the moderate wing of the cabinet. Now Bevin is reported anxious to keep on.

Churchill, 75-year-old warhorse of the conservatives, went to his home, Chartwell, for the weekend. There he was joined by his deputy leader, Anthony Eden. They were expected to chart opposition strategy and present the outline to the "Shadow Cabinet"—the men who would be ministers if the conservatives come to power.

Says Sander Acted To Spare Anguish Of Woman's Spouse

Manchester, N. H., Feb. 25—(P)—The prosecution in the mercy-murder trial of Dr. Hermann N. Sander says the physician acted more to spare the anguish of a dying woman's husband than to end her pain.

Mrs. Abbie Borroto, 59, who, it is charged, died of air injected into her veins by Dr. Sander, was for several days so near death that she suffered little, the state says.

This testimony apparently will be accepted by the defense and supplemented with the evidence of another doctor that Mrs. Borroto was medically dead before the air injections.

Dr. Sander, a 41-year-old country physician, went on trial last Monday on a first degree murder charge. Two and a half days were required to select a 12-man jury, and then the state laid the foundation for its case.

Six witnesses were called before the trial adjourned yesterday until 10 a.m. (CST) Monday.

The state testimony on Regina Borroto's anguish was introduced by Sheriff Thomas P. O'Brien and Miss Josephine Connor, records librarian at the hospital where Mrs. Borroto died last Dec. 4.

Group Plans To Up Low Incomes

Would Safeguard Nation Against Inside Enemies

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—A Senate-House economic subcommittee today chartered a broad program designed to boost the earning power of America's low-income families.

The group said the program would help safeguard the nation against "the fomentation of political movements which seek to destroy our way of life."

Four of the five members of the subcommittee signed a report covering its study of the problems of low-income families—a group which the majority said includes 16,000,000 families and individuals earning less than $2,900 a year.

The fifth member, Rep. Rich "Rube" Russell, filed a minority report which said "no one can quarrel with efforts to improve the lot of his fellow man," but that the program advocated by the majority was the wrong way to go about it.

Rich said that although the report "urges many things for many people," it appeared to be "strangely silent" on the controversial issue of whether to create a fair employment practices commission (FEPC) to guard against job discrimination on the basis of race, creed or color.

The majority report was put out by Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.), the subcommittee chairman; Senator Flanders (R-Vt.), Rep. Huber (D-Ohio) and Rep. Buchanan (D-Pa.).

The group said the low-income group includes about one-third of all the families and individuals in the United States. One-fifth of the nation's children are in that category, the report added.

Here are some of the subcommittee's recommendations dealing with unskilled workers:

Consideration by the states of establishing a minimum wage in industries not covered by the federal law which sets a "floor" of 75 cents an hour.

Federal aid to states for education through the high school level.

Establishment of a national scholarship fund for the higher education of students of demonstrated ability who have limited money.

Name 5 Senators To Probe State Dept. For Commies

Washington, Feb. 25—(P)—A "No witch-hunt, no whitewash" investigation of alleged Communist infiltration into the State department was promised tonight by Senator Tydings (D-Md.).

Tydings was named head of a five-man subcommittee of the Senate foreign relations committee to undertake an inquiry into charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that an unnamed group of Communists hold—or have held—high State department posts.

McCarthy told reporters he thinks Chairman Connally (D-Tex.), the foreign relations group picked "a good committee" in naming Senators: Green (D-R), McMahon (D-Conn.), Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Lodge (R-Mass.) to act with Tydings in making the investigation.

But McCarthy said that if President Truman sticks by his refusal to make state department employees' loyalty files available, "an investigation will be useless."

The senate has ordered the foreign relations group to subpoena these files, pointing to a possible court test of the President's position.

Declining to pass on this issue in advance, Tydings told reporters he expects a five-member group to make "a full, fair and complete" investigation of McCarthy's charges.

He said the group, meeting Monday to organize, will hire a couple of "outstanding and respected persons" to act as counsel and advisers.

Coal Parties Meet Today

Using Sunday To Hasten Agreement

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—Soft coal contract talks tonight headed for their first Sunday session as government mediators pressed hard for a sudden agreement before the mine whistles blow again.

The officials drew some slight encouragement from today's long meetings—they've talked a lot of dollars and cents all day.

But tomorrow's session beginning at 10 a.m., CST, offered the last chance to get a quick compromise ahead of court opening Monday when the United Mine Workers goes to trial on contempt charges because 372,000 miners refused to obey a federal judge's order to dig coal.

Should Reach Agreement

And the mediator, David L. Cole, chairman of President Truman's inquiry board, and Cyrus Chung, federal mediation chief—reportedly told the union and operator negotiators today that the public interest requires they make every effort to reach agreement before the trial.

Underlining this was the rapidly mounting coal shortage crisis. Closing industries lifted joblessness in other industries to 180,000. A coal industry official said that another week of the strike would put the country in a state of "chaos."

The White House gave no indication of a new presidential move. As the negotiations receded, Cole told reporters:

"We're hopeful in general... a little bit encouraged... only a little bit, though."

Both Cole and Chung declined details. It was reported that the operators had held off making a specific contract offer, although Cole said the meeting was "constructive."

But Chung noted, in reply to a question: "There's still a gulf between them."

Cole and Chung were understood on this 1

Schedule Of Meetings Knocked Off Balance By Coal Emergency

Churches, schools and homes in Jacksonville felt the numbing paralysis of the coal strike more acutely Saturday than at any stage of the crisis thus far. The community's entire religious, educational and social schedule has been knocked out of balance. A wave of postponements of scheduled events has accompanied the closing of the schools and other places of assembly.

Churches of the city, working through the ministerial association, have worked out an emergency schedule of services for Sunday. Combined services are expected to be the rule until the crisis has passed and the various buildings can be supplied with coal.

Hundreds of homes and business houses which depend on coal for heat nursed dwindling supplies.

The Poor Man's Philosopher On Mental Health

By Hal Boyle

New York—(P)—Once upon a time there was a hypochondriac who felt sure there was something wrong with his arm.

"We can't see anything wrong with it," his friends said, but the man thought, "They just don't want to tell me the truth."

He took his arm to a doctor. The doc said it looked to him like the healthiest arm he had seen all week. Still unconvinced the man went home. He began to pinch his arm to be sure the circulation was all right. He pinched so hard a bruise developed.

"Ah-hah!" he said. He began pinching the bruise with a safety pin. Three days later he was in a hospital, complaining indignantly to a nurse.

"They told me nothing was wrong with my arm—and here I am half-dead from blood poisoning!"

It's become a national epidemic. People are beginning to develop guilt complexes whenever they're told they're normal. They suspect it's anti-social to be healthy, and they don't want to be accused of it publicly.

Greet a man today with "How do you feel?" and he hands you his blood pressure chart and looks around for a couch he can lie on and tell you all the mean things done to him in childhood.

Even Psychiatrists Worry. The bane of the medical world used to be the fellow who tried to treat his appendicitis at home by following the directions in a patent medicine almanac. Today it's the guy who tries to bandage his mental problems by reading the psychology books in the public library or the corner drugstore.

People's mushy-brained preoccupation with their own mental health has given the psychiatrists a terrible headache.

The net result must be to produce uncertainty, confusion and distress. Jules V. Coleman, director of the mental hygiene clinic at the University of Colorado Medical Center, told a convention of mental specialists last week.

And he added that all the current saving and scribbling about mental health "is of little value in reducing the incidence of neurosis."

Commonsense Cure. This is a bugle note of commonsense. If a cent has career, he's not going to cure it by reading a mental text. And if he has inept school zephyria, he isn't going to get well by boning up on the anatomy of psychiatry.

Ordinary mental health, like ordinary body health, can best be maintained by following the rules your grandmother knew. An old lady once gave this poor man's philosophy a simple prescription that has far worked unfailingly.

"If your mind hurts, or you feel hurt, take off your shoes and go to bed. In any case, just relax and get away from what causes you to feel bad."

"If nine hours of sleep don't make you feel better, go to a doctor."

And if everybody got nine hours sleep a night, the psychiatrists there wouldn't have to go so often to see their own psychiatrists.

Make Meatless Lenten Dishes

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

For menus based on meatless main dishes, these substantial vegetable recipes are delicious and different:

Bean Baked in Tomatoes (Serves 6)

Six large firm tomatoes, 1 jar oven-baked beans, 1 pound 2 ounces, 1 cup finely diced green pepper, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons grated cheese.

Cut slice from top of each tomato. Remove pulp and save for other use. Lightly salt insides of cups. Combine all remaining ingredients but cheese in saucepan and heat thoroughly. Place tomato cups in greased muffin pan and fill with bean mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until tomatoes are tender, about 30 minutes.

Indian Beans With Rice (Serves 4)

One-quarter cup bacon fat, 1 clove garlic, minced, 1 cup each, finely diced onion and celery, 1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet, 8-ounce can tomato sauce, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, 14 cups kidney beans, 1 cup shredded green. Place fat in saucepan over moderate heat. Add garlic and let cook 1 minute. Add onion and celery and cook about 5 minutes. Stir in kitchen bouquet. Add tomato sauce and seasonings. Bring to boil and add beans and green pepper.

Let simmer uncovered over low heat until green pepper is just cooked, about 15 minutes. Meanwhile heat rice according to directions on package. Serve beans over rice.

Mashed cooked dry beans make a nutritious base for meatless sandwiches if teamed up with eggs or cheese.

With the mashed cooked beans, use egg mayonnaise, chopped hard-boiled eggs or cheese. Catsup, minced onion, chopped celery or pickle relish may be added.

MONDAY'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Stewed prunes, oatmeal, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, marmalade, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Indian beans with rice, sliced oranges and bananas, leftover chocolate cake, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, real chops sautéed in chicken stock, baked potatoes, quick cabbage, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, apple brown Betty, hard sauce or ice cream, coffee, milk.

Trinket Tricks

This girl tries new tricks with old trinkets pulled from her jewelry box (center). Tiny gold circles pin a charm bracelet to outline the slit pocket (upper left). The choker (lower left) makes imaginative use of a small sunburst pin and two pearl scatter pins. An old coin strung on a chain teams up with a print scarf to make a bright fill-in for a V-necked dress (upper right). Four tiny pins are grouped for more impressive display on a ribbon tab for a flap pocket (lower right).

BY ALICIA HART

NEA Staff Writer

Dig out the treasures buried in your jewelry box and put them to more imaginative use if you want to add a sparkling new touch to old trinkets. You're most likely to find trinkets you're most likely to find buried are the myriad little pins which are seldom worn because they don't look imposing enough by themselves. You may also find an old coin or medal you have been hoarding on the chance you'll think up a way to use it.

Suggestions for putting such cast-offs to better use come from the Jewelry Industry Council. After you've sorted out the odds and ends, check pins for broken clasps which need repairing. The best way to build up the importance of small pins, says the Council, is to group them together. Even unrelated pins make effective groupings if the design is worked out against a ribbon background. Velvet, grosgrain or more ribbon backgrounds show off the trinkets and hold the design together. You can, for example, make a pretty choker necklace for a bare-topped dress by pinning a small,

sparkler in the center of a ribbon and flanking it with a pair of bright, jeweled or pearl scatter pins.

Or you can make a showy tab for a flap pocket by staggering four or more pins vertically down a ribbon.

Your tab should be cut to the depth of the flap.

Two pins plus a gold link or charm bracelet team up for another "conversation-piece" pocket display. For this, anchor the bracelet with the pins to outline the slit pocket of a tailored suit.

To bring your old coin or medallion out in the open where it can be admired by others, have it attached to a short-link chain. This can be combined with small scarfs to make a handsome fill-in for a V neckline of a basic dress.

All you need to do to pull off this trick is to wrap the chain around the scarf and let the coin dangle down in front. Tie the scarf at the back of the neck so that the coin swings above the point of the V of the dress.

New Make-Up Has Lanolin

BY ALICIA HART

NEA Staff Writer

Girls who use make-up foundation creams or lotions only for special occasions underrate its practical importance as skin protector. Naturally, one expects foundation to help of lanolin. The lanolin is processed so that it will have a softening effect without leaving an oily film. This new base is light in texture and is easy to apply with the fingertips. It does not dry in uneven streaks, say the makers, and can be used with equal success on dry or oily skins.

For an after-school snack serve raisins and dried apricots so that the youngsters can eat them out of hand with a cold crisp apple.

Furs Require Special Care

BY ALICIA HART

NEA Staff Writer

Because furs are apt to represent a sizable investment, they deserve careful handling, particularly during the cold winter months when they get the most wear and tear.

It's more than likely that your fur coat will go through more than one snowstorm this winter and emerge thoroughly damp. Don't dry it out near a radiator. Put it on a hanger and let it dry slowly at room temperature. On the advice of Harry Jaw Treu, New York fur craftsman, he stresses using a padded hanger for your fur coat, one which conforms to the shape of the neck and shoulder. When the coat is dry again, shake it gently to fluff it up.

It takes constant care to keep furs clean during the months when they're getting harder wear. Dirt, dust and grime all cause furs to deteriorate. They're also an invitation to moths. The best way to keep your furs dirt free is to beat them occasionally, using a small ruler and covering the entire surface of the fur with vigorous strokes. This keeps the hairs separate and erect.

Shaking your coat before you put it on and again before you take it off should become a habit. Shake it briskly but gently, to keep the fur well-fluffed.

Don't sit on your fur coat any longer than absolutely necessary. And to prevent friction, remember not to let your handbag or packages rub against your coat. Friction causes worn spots!

Sunday dinner sometimes means there are gravy stains left on the table cloth. If so, treat the stains a special way because they're a mixture of protein and grease, and protein "sets" if plunged into hot water. The thing to do is to wash the stained cloth first in cool water to remove the protein, then wash out the marring grease stain in hot soap water.

If you soak raisins or prunes before cooking use the soaking water to cook them in so you get most nutrients for your money.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND YOU

Q—I would like to talk to someone from the social security office about filing a claim for benefits, but I don't want to go to Springfield just for that. Isn't there some other way of doing this?

A—A representative of the Springfield office visits the following cities regularly: Beardstown, Gillespie, Jacksonville, Lincoln, Litchfield, Pana, Staunton, and Taylorville. Your postmaster can tell you when and where to see him in these cities.

Q—The social security office has told me that I have not been employed enough to qualify for benefits. Isn't there some way that I can pay the additional taxes and thereby qualify for benefits?

A—Benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance program are based on the amount of wages paid to a worker for work that is covered by the Social Security Act. The law does not permit anyone to secure credit in any other way, and therefore you could not become eligible for benefits merely by paying additional taxes.

Q—I work for two employers and both of them withhold social security from my wages. Do I receive credit for the wages reported by both of them?

A—Yes, up to a total of $3,000 in any one year. Each employer is required to deduct the social security tax from your wages until he has paid you $3,000 in a calendar year. If taxes have been deducted from the Employment Office on East Morgan street.)

LETTER TO A VETERAN

Dear Joe:

In a little while, if you haven't already received it, you are going to get a fat check from Uncle Sam. Your Insurance Dividend.

You know, when you add up all those dividends... that's pretty important money. Pretty important, because as the experts tell us, it will mean much to the economy of the country to put all that money into circulation. More trade. More jobs. More wants satisfied.

That's the overall picture. But let's get down to cases. Your case in particular. What are you going to do with that check? Chances are you'll save some... spend some.

For savings, we recommend the world's best investment—U. S. Government Bonds! As for spending if we guess right, you'll buy something for the house, something for Mom, something for the kids.

And, finally, if you get around to it, something for yourself.

But we'd like to make a suggestion. Why don't you take a part of that check and buy something for yourself? Yes, buy something for yourself.

Why not a whole new outfit from head to foot—hat to baggins? Now, wait a minute, Joe. It isn't a bit selfish. You owe it to yourself. This is probably the first time since mustering out that you have had such an opportunity.

You owe it to yourself because it's just good for morale to look your very best. And this will probably be your first time to do it all in one piece.

Want to know something, Joe? Your family will be proud to see you looking the way they wanted to see you look for some time.

Your friends will get a kick out of it, and it certainly won't hurt you in a business way either.

Suppose someone whistles at the new outfit. "How come, Joe, rich uncle left you a lot of dough?" You snap back, "Yep, rich uncle Uncle Sam. He sent me back some of my own dough, so I'm celebrating. Celebrating in style."

And, Joe, this is a good time to do it. Because right now you can get the widest choice of materials and styles and the best clothing value for a buck in years and years.

So, Dress up Mr. America!

YOUR help IS NEEDED

ARE IN YOUR HANDS...

YOU know this family. They might be your neighbors . . . your friends. They might be you and yours.

Their hearts are in your hands. Why? Because the outcome of the fight against heart disease—the major cause of death in this country—depends on your help.

The American Heart Association was formed in 1922 by a group of America's foremost Cardiologists to fight Heart Disease with planned scientific and educational work. Recently reorganized into a National voluntary Health agency, with local affiliates in major areas of the United States, its membership is composed of laymen, physicians, and scientists interested in reducing disease, disability and death resulting from disorders of the Heart and blood vessels.

A few weeks ago several of the doctors of this area felt that a local chapter of this organization would be a fine thing for Morgan County and the enlarged area of the New Hospital, accordingly a meeting was called at which about 200 Doctors attended, there was also another meeting held for laymen and as a result "The Morgan County Chapter of the American Heart Association" came into being.

But it was an organization without funds, the time was short between the organization of the chapter, and the National campaign; there was not much time for publicity, and preparation; however a campaign was started on Feb. 1st; with only a few volunteer workers, which worked out a plan of direct mail, distribution of 200 plastic hearts to various business places throughout the county.

ENTERTAINMENT CANCELLED

Due to the closing of schools as a result of the shortage of coal, the benefit show, sponsored by the American Legion, scheduled for Monday evening, February 27th, has been cancelled.

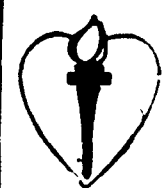

With the cancelling of this show, there are only two avenues for contribution, the plastic hearts and by mailing your contribution direct to Karl Baker, 205 Gibson Building, Jacksonville, Illinois.

The heart diseases are the greatest single threat to the health of the American family. They destroy more lives than cancer, accidents, kidney disease, pneumonia and tuberculosis combined.

Think of it. In a single year more than 625,000 men, women and children are struck down by heart and circulatory disease.

Can you do anything about this? Yes. Recent scientific advances give hope that this menace can be controlled if you support your Heart Association's all-out attack on heart disease through research, education and community service.

MEDICAL SCIENCE CANNOT DO THE JOB ALONE. THE SUCCESS OF THE PROGRAM DEPENDS ON FINANCIAL SUPPORT FROM THE PUBLIC.

How to Use a Knife...

The knife in your kitchen is blood brother to the murderous machete. Any knife, handled correctly, is an indispensable tool. But a slip of your hand and it can become a vicious weapon, inflicting intense pain and sometimes causing permanent injury. Every day you handle some kind of knife... perhaps a pocket knife or sickle, a paring knife or paper cutter, a pruning knife or shearer. Here are a few easy, practical suggestions on how to use a knife safely.

SHARP KNIVES are the safest knives. Depend on correct sharpening for a better, safer cutting edge. When using a whetstone, lay the blade flat on the rough side of the stone, edge toward you, back slightly raised. Draw toward you for a few strokes. Turn the blade over, edge away, and push it several strokes. Finish on the fine side of the stone, alternating strokes toward and away. Then stop on a piece of leather or soft wood.

STOP CUTS protect your hands from cuts when whittling. A notch at the end of the area you intend to cut can save both you work and your hands. Make sure all wood working tools... knives, chisels, gouges... are sharp. Dull tools on hard wood account for many accidents. If you must use a razor blade as a knife, put it in a holder.

CARRY A KNIFE point down... preferably in a sheath or case. When passing a knife to someone else, hold it with the dull side of the blade next to your palm and the handle extended toward the other person. Always return knives to proper holders when not in use. Make sure all knives, axes, hatchets, scissors and other sharp tools are out of reach of children.

MEAT CARVING needn't spell disaster for the host if he uses a carving fork as a guard. It's wise to use a fork wherever possible to steady food you're cutting. Most carving knives are easily sharpened with a steel. Hold the knife blade at an angle of 15 to 20 degrees. Draw it against the steel from heel to point, first on one side, then on the other.

DRAW KNIVES should be used with special care. Make sure the block of wood you're cutting is fastened to a firm surface. Tilt the knife upward as you draw it toward you. Work as far from your body as possible. The right knife, properly used, can make many jobs safer. Learn which knives do the fastest, safest job.

WASH KITCHEN KNIVES individually when doing dishes... don't risk cutting your water-softened hands on a knife in the bottom of a sudsy-filled pan. Return knives immediately to their special case or drawer.

Soil Conservation Group of Greene County Has Meet

Carrollton—Donald Henry, agricultural economist of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, was guest speaker at the annual banquet of the Greene County Soil Conservation association, held Thursday evening in the Christian church in White Hall.

Henry's topic was "Soil Conservation Pays Off in Dollars and Cents." He illustrated his talk with charts of operations on actual farms showing net return before and ten years after the adoption of a well planned and balanced long-time farm improvement program.

Other number on the program were a humorous reading by Miss Jean Nelson of Winchester and vocal numbers by the girls sextette of the White Hall High school. A. P. Currell also gave a resume of the achievements for the year of the Greene County Soil Conservation association.

During the business meeting, two directors were elected: Clarence Akers of White Hall was re-elected to the board of directors and Frank Kuhnline of Carrollton and H. C. Cole of Greenfield were elected to the board. The hold over members are M. M. Davidson of Eldred and William Gilmore of Roodhouse.

New York Stock Market

New York, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Packard motor took the trading spotlight in today's stock market.

"K" the symbol for the motor concern, splashed all over the ticker tape, most at a price of 4 and a net loss of 1 point. The decline followed news that directors had not voted a dividend.

To a lesser degree Chesapeake & Ohio attracted wide interest at 28 1/2 or a loss of 1 point. An omitted dividend also hit this issue.

The balance of the market steered along on a fairly even keel. Price changes were fractionally for the most part, with gains and losses well scrambled.

Turnover was at a rate of around 600,000 shares for the short session. Higher most of the time were Goodrich, Caterpillar, Tractor, Boebling, Consolidated Vultee, Admiral Corp. and Zenith.

Corporate bonds moved narrowly.

Wheat—Strong; dry weather in winter wheat belt.

Corn—Firm; short-covering.

Oats—Firm with other cereals.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Hogs, cattle and sheep held nominally steady today.

A new all-time February high for fat lambs featured a mostly lower trend in livestock markets this week. The lamb peak was $27.25, and it was paid freely for more than a dozen loads. Corn belt feed lots are now fairly well emptied of fed lambs, the agriculture department said.

Although hog receipts fell off here and at other mid-western terminals, the price trend was down. Loss was concentrated mainly in lighter weight barrows and gilts, which wound up 25 to 50 cents lower than a week ago. Wholesale dressed pork also worked lower.

Slaughter steers and heifers ended steady to 50 cents higher. Stockers and feeders were scarce and brought steady prices.

GRAINS ROLL UPWARD IN CHICAGO MARKET

By WILLIAM FERRIS
Chicago, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Grains rolled upward in active dealings on the Board of Trade today, paced by wheat and soybeans.

The market got off to a slow and mixed start. Some traders expected a good deal of profit-taking after earlier gains this week. But when selling failed to reach any volume, the market quickly took on new life.

New seasonal highs were scored by December wheat and July and January soybeans.

Continued dry weather in the southwest, plus expectations of good export business next week, spurred buying in wheat. Italy was expected to purchase 2,500,000 bushels of wheat next week Portugal and Great Britain also may be in the market as a result of recent ECA allocations.

Commission houses with eastern connections bought soybeans. Continued strength in cottonseed oil at New York helped, as did reports of a firm trend in crude vegetable oil markets.

Wheat closed 11-21 higher. March $22 1/4, corn was 1-13 higher. March $1.29; oats were 1-3 higher. May 70¢, rye was 1 to 1 1/2 higher. May $1.30-1 1/2, soybeans were 21-2 higher. March $2.42-1/2, and lard was 2 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher. March $10.87.

Estimated receipts of grain in cars here today: Wheat 11; corn 110; oats 40; rye none; barley 34, and soybeans 11.

Receipts include 13 cars of corn on CCC account.

HOMEMAKERS CIRCLE MEETS AT FRANKLIN

Franklin—The Franklin Homemakers circle met with Mrs. Sam Camm for a Washington birthday party. A luncheon was served at noon. The following program was given: piano solo, Mrs. H. Crain; reading, Mrs. O. W. Gould; reading, Miss Margaret Camm; duet, Mrs. Marian Spires and Mrs. O. W. Gould. Guests were Mrs. Carlos Roberts and Miss Margaret Camm.

Miss Paulina Shearburn, bride-to-be, was honored at a shower at the Franklin church Wednesday evening. The shower was planned by her mother, Mrs. Harlin Jones. Miss Shearburn will be married to Edward B. Litjehlad of Springfield on March 18. Several friends were present and Miss Shearburn received many gifts.

Jacksonville, ISD Quintets Play At Virginia Monday

Wright, Williams Pace Jacksonville To 73-70 Victory Over Carthage

Jacksonville high school's rejuvenated Crimsons gave schools in this region a well-founded cause for alarm when they turned the heat on visiting Carthage and came up with a 73-70 victory on the David Prince boards Saturday night.

It was the one-two punch of Ike Wright and Bill Williams that gave the Jacksonville team the needed spark for victory. Coach John Chapman watched his boys cling to a two-to-three point lead throughout the tussle after they broke a 14-14 first quarter deadlock.

Jacksonville led 38-36 at halftime and held a 53-50 advantage moving into the final quarter.

Wright, freshman Crimson guard, was superb with his dribbling antics. The slight ball-handling wizard was probably the paramount factor in the Crimsons' win. Though hampered by the cramped quarters in the tiny gym, Wright dribbled through close-guarding Carthage athletes time and again to either feed off to Williams or bucket a neat under-the-basket shot himself.

Williams was the big noise in the scoring column. The blond sophomore registered 21 markers with his jump shot and sleeper plays. Wright followed closely with 16 counters and Jack Chapman picked up 12.

Trout, a second team man who scored 25 points in the preliminary, also led his varsity mates in basket-making. He racked up 19 tallies.

Carthage's fast-breaking offense was hampered considerably by lack of room. Jacksonville threw up a zone defense and stymied the visitors' play-making efforts.

Pivotal John Rhodes and Magdon Baldwin were outstanding with their rebound work. The two Crimsons grabbed the majority of loose balls from Carthage's towering center, Scott.

It was the last regular game of the season for both schools. Jacksonville enters the Virginia regional with a 16-9 record.

The Jacksonville B squad bowed before the Carthage seconds 59-47 in the curtain-raiser.

Four Meredosia Taverns Named In $12,500 Suit

Suit against proprietors of four Meredosia taverns and owners of the real estate has been filed in circuit court by Bessie M. Smith and Lucian Harold Smith in connection with the death of Fred Smith, 64, who was run over and killed by an automobile Feb. 26, 1949, at Meredosia. Brought under the Dram Shop act, the suit asks $12,500 damages for Smith's death, claiming that he was intoxicated and unable to get out of the way of a car which struck him.

Defendants named in the suit are Jane L. Hemphill, Emil Plummer, Allen Baird Chrisman, Merle Reinling, Carl Yeakel, Floyd Hobson, Roy Weber and Carl Hobbs.

Mrs. Smith, widow of the deceased, and Lucian Harold Smith, a son, are represented by Edward J. Flynn and Harry G. Story, attorneys.

The suit alleges that Smith procured intoxicating liquor from the Log Cabin tavern, Merle's tavern, South Side tavern and Bridge tavern.

TWO S.U.U. ATHLETES IN COLLEGE WHO'S WHO

Carlondale, Ill., Feb. 25.—(P)—Jack Mawdsley of Granite City and Marold Hartley of Ashley will be listed in the 1949-50 who's who in college sports, Southern Illinois university said today.

Mawdsley won the tennis singles title in the Illinois intercollegiate athletic conference last spring, and captained SIU's team the past two years.

Hartley, captain-elect of Southern's track squad, holds an IIAA high jump record of 6-4, set two seasons ago. He also took first in the event last spring in the northern indoor meet.

MEREDOSIA, DISTRICT CHAMPS

Gerald Jones' Meredosia Indians kept the district tournament championship plaque at home Friday night when they tossed out Chapin in the final game of the small-school meet to qualify for the Virginia regional which gets underway Monday.

The Indians favored to win their own district, have also been picked by some followers to cause a lot of commotion at Virginia. They are paired off with Ashland in the first round.

Waverly Scribe Gives Last Word On Regionals

By Bob Duewer
At Virginia: Coach W. J. Treat of Franklin says that he can't see any one in that district that can top Meredosia and we are inclined to agree with him. As far as Waverly, the Scotties had better look a lot better than they have to even get by their first game against New Berlin and then comes Meredosia.

By the way, Bob Freeman, Athens coach, says that if Waverly plays Jacksonville in the finals it would be a toss up as to who would win. It would depend upon who was hot and who got the breaks. Athens didn't worry about either team defeat Jacksonville 78-61 and Waverly 68-52.

At Taylorville: The Taylorville Tornados are expected to romp off with this title by beating Pana in the finals but, low and behold, our co-champions run into their babies in their first game. Nokomis will tangle with Gregory and company of Taylorville while Morrisville must face the great Funderburk and his Pana Panthers.

At Lanphier: From this corner it looks like Cathedral has one on its hips although Springfield of Feltshans might give trouble. But, the three MSM schools will give very little trouble. Northwestern will be bumped off by Lanphier in the top bracket and will hope that the Lions won't run up a score on them. In the lower bracket Viriden and Divernon will both be sweating it out against Springfield opposition. Viriden runs into Springfield and Divernon (14-12) tangles with Feltshans.

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 25.—(P)—Harvard cast a policy of aloofness aside and stretched out arms of welcome today to prospective athlete-students.

The nation's oldest university—still smarting from its most disastrous football season last fall—announced that athletes will be considered "special, not isolated cases."

A new policy outlined by provost Paul H. Buck calls for financial and scholarship aid to students and provides for "contracting" students—including athletes—who are considering entering Harvard.

Once a power in intercollegiate athletics, Harvard teams have been performing poorly for the past few years. The all-time football low was reached last season when the crimson won but one game in nine starts and were defeated decisively on occasions.

Ohio State Wins Big 10 Basketball As Illini Whips Badgers 76-58

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 25.—(P)—Idle Ohio State was handed the Big Ten basketball title as runner-up Wisconsin was defeated by Illinois, 76-58, here Saturday night.

The setback gave Wisconsin a 7-3 record and left Ohio's Buckeyes with the clear-cut championship on a 10-1 record and no need to worry about the outcome of their finale at Michigan Monday night.

The Illini triumph was sparked by big Wally Osterkorn who poured in 26 points to show up league-leading scorer Don Rehfeldt of Wisconsin, who was held to 17.

Bill Shouse Scores 34 Points, Leads IC To Win Over Auggies

Illinois College wound up its current cage season by romping to a 92-74 win over the invading Augustana five at the ISD gym Saturday night.

The game was a racehorse affair all the way, featured by rough and tumble play on both sides. Both teams started out red hot. The lead changed continually throughout the first half, but when the halftime whistle blew IC held a 43-34 margin.

Shouse, Longer and Murrin appeared in their last games for All Miller's blueboy five. It was a grand sendoff for the boys from Danville. Shouse collected 2 counters in the first half and added another 14 in the last half to lead all scorers for the evening with a total of 34.

Longer starred on defense, holding Scott, the Auggie giant center to 7 points.

After the start of the second half, the Blueboys began to pull away, by the time the second period was half gone Augustana was completely subdued.

Bill Gross dominated play in the second half until he left the game via the foul route with 8 minutes remaining. He displayed a masterpiece in floorwork with his rebounding and scored several points on tipping shots.

The win left Illinois College with a 6-4 record in conference play and a 17-7 record for the season. Augustana now has a 3-5 conference standing.

Shouse and Grove combined for a total 58 points for IC, Shouse with 34 and Grove following with 24. Carse led scoring for the Auggies with 21 counters for his efforts.

In the preliminary game of the evening the Winchester VFW defeated the IC reserves 54-51.

Illinois college basketball fans probably saw three Blueboy baskets perform for the last time in the Augustana tussle Saturday night. Bill Shouse, Don Longer and Bob Murrin have sheepskin aspirations and may graduate in the spring.

Their going will deplete the ranks of the Danville athletes considerably. However, the eastern Illinois town will still be represented by Bill Gross and Dave Billings. These five Danvillians came to the Hilltop campus three years ago and just about single-handedly brought basketball enthusiasm back to a fever pitch.

They have been assisted a great deal by such athletes as Bob Grove, Barney Vilk and Aaron Preece—now a regular at Bradley but Coach Al Miller still maintains that Jacksonville fans owe a debt of gratitude to Danville for raising the standards of local college basketball.

The season before the five boys enrolled at I.C., Blueboys cagers rolled up an impressive 18-3 record—18 defeats and three victories. Since that time, Illinois college has become a power in the Little Nine conference and the records have leaned heavily to the win side.

Shouse, Longer and Murrin have one year of basketball eligibility remaining. They could return to I.C. However, as the wind now blows, the three athletes will collect their diplomas and move on.

Miller, though shaken, will not be altogether minus basketball talent. Bob Grove, Bill Gross, and Dave Billings will be returning to form a nucleus for a strong ball club. Such athletes as Jim Kinsey, a freshman, Paul Lasley, a Jacksonville sophomore, and Horie DeGroot, a Canton product, could well be pressed into varsity action and might fill the bill.

Joe Brooks, college baseball coach, tells that he has issued the first call for diamond athletes. Prospects are asked to report to the old gym at 3:30 Monday afternoon for the opening "talk."

Detroit Lions Announce Signing Of Doak Walker

Detroit, Feb. 25.—(P)—The Detroit Lions announced today the signing of Doak Walker, Southern Methodist University star, for a three-year contract totaling an estimated $38,000.

The signing of the three-time All-America gave the Lions two of the most celebrated college football players of the 1949 season. Next year Walker will team with Notre Dame's Leon Hart, who recently signed with the Lions for approximately the same terms.

Coach Bo McMillin hailed the acquisition of Walker delight.

"He was great in college," he said of the four-sport star, "and now with a 'c' cast to one sport, he'll be greater still."

Walker said, "I've had my eye on professional football for some time. A few years will give me the necessary experience I want to enter college coaching."

"I'm certainly happy to be with Detroit," Walker said. I had been easy to negotiate with McMillin, he added, because of McMillin's close friendship with Matty Bell, coach at Southern Methodist. Bell was Bo's high school teammate at North Fort Worth, Tex., and later at Centre college.

The Doaker was a versatile athlete. Besides winning four letters in football, he picked up three in baseball and one in basketball. He also was good in track, swimming and tennis.

Walker was the 3 to 5 favorite at the start.

Crimsons Play Hosts, Tigers Meet Franklin In Regional Openers

Jacksonville high school, pre-tournament favorites, clash with an unpredictable host quintet in the inaugural game of the Virginia regional tournament at 7 o'clock tonight.

I.S.D. and Franklin, who have played a pair of closely contested games already this season, will meet in game number two at 8:15 p.m.

Only I.S.D. and J.H.S. will represent Jacksonville in the regional this year since Routt was dropped to a district classification and bowed to champion Meredosia in the small-school tournament.

Waverly and New Berlin lock horns in the 7 p.m. first-round duel Tuesday night with Ashland and Meredosia pairing off at 8:15.

One Game Wednesday & Thursday
Semi-final contests will be split to cover a two-night period in order that the fans may have a chance to see their favorites perform since the seating capacity of the Virginia gymnasium is limited.

The championship battle will be played Friday night, starting at 8 p.m.

Jacksonville high was named the team to beat by the ISHA who pairs all district, regional, sectional and state entries. Waverly heads the lower bracket with I.S.D., Ashland, Virginia, New Berlin, Franklin and the district winner following in that order.

To confuse the issue, Waverly whipped the Crimsons in the district tournament last January. However, since then, Carroll Lowe's Scotties have been in a slump, losing to Franklin and winding up the season suffering a seven point defeat in the hands of Athens.

JHS Has Beaten Virginia
John Chapman's Crimsons tumbled Virginia in the season opener at Virginia, though not by a decisive score. Jacksonville record, though not impressive, has been made against bigger teams than most of the other regional entries have played.

The I.S.D.-Franklin battle Monday should be a thriller. Spike Wilson's Tigers, who own the most impressive seasons record of any team in the tournament 17-7, have whipped Joe Treat's Flash quintet twice this year, once by two points and again by one.

Ticket allotments to the schools concerned have been placed on advanced sale. Jacksonville and I.S.D. each received over 200 tickets. Most of those duets were sold Friday evening.

Baseball Calendar Says Spring Just Around Corner
New York, Feb. 25.—(P)—Never mind the sleet and snow, the wind and rain. Spring is just around the corner. The baseball calendar says so.

Next Wednesday, on March 1, 19 major league clubs will start training in warm climates. On March 11, all of them will begin playing exhibition games. There will be 363 such "preliminary" affairs, 118 of them inter-league engagements.

The grapefruit season will run all the way through Monday, April 7, when the New York Giants pay their annual visit to West Point to play against the military academy. The regular season gets under way Tuesday, April 18.

Except for the Chicago Cubs moving over to Catalina island for a 10-day conditioning period, the training camp map discloses no changes. The Cubs, who trained at Los Angeles the last two years, will return there to finish off their training.

As usual, Florida will be the training base of a majority of the big league teams. There will be 10 clubs there in addition to a horde of minor league squads. Four clubs will train in California and two in Arizona.

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 25.—(P)—Notre Dame came, saw and conquered Navy 65 to 59 today in its first basketball appearance on the banks of the Severn river.

Center Dan Bagley, high scorer with 19 points, led the Irish in their second victory in two games against the midshipmen. Notre Dame led at the half 33 to 30.

A gallant band of middies, who tied the score nine times during the game and held a three point lead at 48 to 45 with 10 minutes to go, gave up only after a terrific struggle.

Forward Joe Fitzpatrick kept Navy in the game with 17 points, 14 of which were in the first half.

It was Notre Dame's 14th win of the year as against eight losses. It was Navy's sixth setback in 20 starts.

Due to coal shortage, Sportsman's Club meeting Mon. night cancelled.

End of a Chapter

XXXX. ALICE PINE got out of her car. It was dark. Muriel had closed up the house on the Point when she left for the coast and there was no one there now.

The singing of the wind which had distracted her thoughts on the long drive from the city, was silent here. There were no disturbing sounds unless the gentle soughing of the Sound down by the beach could be called a song.

Alice started back past the house, toward the beach, the same beach on which Brent Halleck had seen her and had accused her of trespassing the first time they met.

She reached the sand and plodded through it to the edge of the water, where Long Island Sound lapped the shore.

A sickle moon dodged in and out behind ragged patches of clouds, alternately darkening the beach and then gilding it with a livid light.

For some infinitely long minutes Alice waited, listening to the incoming tide and waiting for the arrival of Brent Halleck. The lapping of the waves made a fretful, sighing noise, as if the Sound too were impatient.

The beach itself was deserted, save for Alice, and momentarily she was glad of its loneliness and that Brent had not yet arrived.

She would explain everything, show him that it was Muriel, not Brent himself, that had made him seem like a failure.

Alice had not given the reason for wanting Brent to meet her, when she sent her brief telegram. The message had simply asked him to meet her here, on the beach at the Point.

Slowly Alice went over her plan of what she would do when Brent finally came. When he arrived, she would sit on the sand beside him and tell him what she had learned. She would tell Brent about Muriel's visit, of her confession as to what happened the night of the storm, and she would also tell Brent of her conversation with Chuck Wisner in Toliver the day Alice had left the Hallecks.

She would have to fill in some gaps, but Brent probably would know some of the answers. She must overcome his doubts—no show him where he had the ability to make something of himself still. Word by word she formed her pretty little speech.

She would tell Brent how she had misunderstood him of course, and she would explain to Brent that he was not the failure Muriel had tried to make him seem. She would tell him that the Hallecks were not going down-grade.

In conclusion she would say: "Oh, Brent, it's all going to be different now." And Brent, no doubt, would agree with her. Yes, that was Alice Pine's plan.

But as she waited, moments of doubt came to her mind. Had she done right in writing him to come here? What if he had failed to receive her wire? The sounds of the waves became ominous and Alice grew slightly afraid. What if he would not come to meet her? Alice had thought of a long, lonely ride home.

But she knew Brent would come. She knew she wouldn't have to wait long.

Her mind raced back over what she had to do. When Brent arrived, the main thing would be to make him see that without Muriel to tear him down, things would be much different. Things were interrupted by a distant cry. Someone calling her name. Alice listened and heard it again: "Alice!"

It could be Brent. Alice whipped around, facing the house. Was it Brent Halleck? She had failed to hear his car when it pulled into the driveway next to hers. The waves had probably drowned out the purring of the motor.

"Alice!"

As the cry came again—no doubting now, because she recognized Brent's voice—Alice saw the headlights of his car thrusting twin cornucopias of brilliance toward the beach. But where Alice stood was too far away. The groping, tapering antennae of light fell short and did not reach her. Brent could not see her.

Between the falling light and the spot where Alice stood near the edge of the Sound was a dark patch which the headlights beams could not pierce. From somewhere behind this blind spot came the shout again: "Alice!"

SHE started toward him, her mind speeding over what she expected to say to him. She knew precisely what she must tell Brent Halleck. He would doubt, perhaps, but she must overcome his doubts, to restore his confidence in himself, to make him understand that it was Muriel, with her strange streak of sadism, which had defeated him all these years.

Brent was here to hear her, and she must make him listen.

"Alice! Is that you?" Alice cupped her hands and shouted. "Yes, Brent! Yes! Here I am!"

She almost stumbled as she ran toward him. She could see him now and he could see her as the moon peered out from behind the clouds for a brief instant. He was running toward her.

Yes, everything would be different for Brent from now on. Their outstretched arms met and the two figures melted into the darkness as the clouds folded again over the moon.

It was not strange, that Alice said scarcely any of the things she had intended to say to Brent at that time. In fact, she said none of them until long afterwards.

On this particular night there had seemed to be so many more important things to talk about.

Scott Forum Talk Discusses Cause Of U. S. Crime

Winchester—The members of Research Forum No. 24 were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Breeding at the home of Mrs. Lucile Coultas last Monday evening.

F. M. Fulmer, Superintendent of School District No. 1 presented the paper of the evening upon the subject "A Better Allocation of the Tax Dollar."

He stated that one of the greatest wastes brought to our so-called civilization is by that minority of our citizens who engage in delinquent activities. This waste according to expert actuarial accounting costs the American people over 20 billions of dollars each year, from 1890 until 1920 the nation steadily reduced the proportion of men who lived in the penitentiary.

"Between 1920 and 1930 something happened. Penal population jumped from 550 per million to 1100 per million. Losing one seventy-fifth of our boys today and converting them into our enemies is too great a waste."

In summarizing this seventy-fifth man whose life he characterized as "homelessness, worklessness, churchlessness and schoollessness." Mr. Fulmer stated that his argument is in reducing crime and so acquiring a contribution toward less waste in American life. "We should organize to see that no boy grows to the adult stage with these four characteristics in his life."

"The schools should be employed to teach the homeless child, the churchless child and the workless child how to live, for there is not any other place for him to learn to live. If this could be done we would have struck a great blow against the criminal and made tremendous contribution to American social efficiency."

Hilltop Players To Present Steinbeck's 'Mice And Men'

"Is there anywhere a more dramatic theme than the struggle of mankind for justice, freedom and peace? If the theatre is still the 'school of life' as it was in the golden age of tragedy, here is an opportunity to prove that it still possesses its ancient vitality and power."

In response to this challenge theatre all over the nation are combining their efforts to bring the fundamental and dramatic themes of "UNESCO—international understanding and rights of men—to the attention of the American people. The theatre is particularly important in this field of the rights of men. It is the dramatist and his people who give us a really intimate picture of man and his environment. It shows us people—their hopes and fears, doubts and dreams.

John Steinbeck is one of our modern dramatists who can draw accurate picture of life. In "Of Mice and Men" he pictures the monotonous life of Lennie and George, two California farmhands. Together they dream of buying a farm and raising rabbits. Candy, a crippled fellow, and Crooks, a colored man, despising the life they lead beg to join in the venture. The four of them plan to buy the farm at the end of the month. Before they can do this, Lennie, who has been described as a feeble-minded giant, kills the wife of the boss's son.

The Hilltop Players of Illinois College have chosen this play because of its depth and understanding of human nature and because the dramatist realizes that all men are entitled to dreams.

This play is to be given Friday, March 3, in the Jacksonville High school auditorium at 8:30. Tickets are being sold at Lane's Book Store and the door.
